Caledonian MacBrayne

Caledonian MacBrayne successfully operates the UK's largest ferry network providing lifeline services to some of Europe's most remote and economically fragile areas. But it is always determined to do more. It is an integral part of communities the length and breadth of its 200-mile long network as a major employer, business and tourism enabler, buyer of local goods and services, and supporter of events and social initiatives. A tangible and sincere commitment not only to the here and now, but investing to make a future difference to the people it serves, as well as the whole of Scotland.
